The Governor's Youngest Daughter Shows Decided Talent.

ODE TO AN OLD PINE TREE

An Interesting Diary Showing Poetic Talent Generations Back.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RADFORD, VA., March 18.—Miss Lily Tyler, ex - Governor Tyler's youngest daughter, has written verses since childhood, though none have been given to the publishers, barring several beautiful child's poems published before she had entered her teens.

The following lines were called forth by the death of Colonel George W. Miles, one of the most loved and honored friends of Governor Tyler's family:

IN MEMORIAM. Colonel George W. Miles died February

1905. Therefore are they before the throne

"Therefore are they before the throne of God and serve Him day and night in His temple; and he that, sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

"They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

"For the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall feed them, and lead them into living fountains, and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes."—
Hey, xv:17.

Rev. xv:17.
Around our Father's threne above,

MISS LILY TYLER.

In robes of spoiless white,
An angel, in God's temple there,
Who serves him day and night.
And in the crown which now he wears
Shine stars, like jewels rare.
Placed there by loying deeds below,
And tender thoughts and prayer;
And in his hands he flears the palm,
Which only victors wave;
For he has triumphed over sin,
Through Him who came to save. In robes of spotless white, Through Him who came to save.

And he shall never hunger now, Nor thrist in mid-day's heat, Nor thrist in mid-day's heat,
For by the Lamb he shall be fed,
And brought to fountains sweet;
Nor shall he ever sorrow more,
Nor feel the weight of foars,
For God himself shall comfort him
And wipe away all tears.

Mrs. Pinkl:am's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lyhn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, rend and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.—Lyda E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

estate, is one of the historic seats of the country. It was built in 1827 by General James Hoge, Governor Tyler's maternal grandfather, near the old family residence erected in 1768.

As will be remembered, Governor Tyler's mother died at his birth, and he was brought from Blenhelm, in Caroline county, at the age of three weeks, and reared by his grandparents at Bell Hampton, his mother's girlbood home.

When very small, his grandmother planted for him a pine tree near the house. Year by year the child and the tree grew together through sunshine and tempest. Year by year the tree grew stronger and larger, and the boy, the light and joy of the home, was to the old people in place of the daughter they had lost. At the age of ten the manly little fellow rode daily over the estate, managing the place for his grandfather and overseeing the hands.

Meanwhile the pine stretched its slender length higher and higher. The zephyrs of summer soughed through its fragrant green branches, the storms of winter wailed and shrieked above it or olded lis branches with a snow-white

A FAIR, SWEET BRIDE.

The years that followed were years of joy and peace. A fair, sweet bride entered the portals of the mansion, and in the twilight, the young couple lingered under the pine, hearing in its low soft music, prophecies of untold happiness in the gift of the coming years, with lowe and faith shiring across their pathlove and faith shining across their path-love and faith snining across their pathway, and the pine tree keeping watch o'er the home.

One after another, little children came into the home and played in the shade of the tree; here they dreamed the dreams of youth and "Dipped into the future far as human eye could see."

"Dipped into the future far as auman eye could see;
Saw the vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be."

Meanwhile honor and position came to the master of the home, and as Chief Executive of the Commonwealth, loved and esteemed by his fellow-citizens, the close of the wolcomed him hock at the close of the wolcomed him hock at the close

At length the great pine has rounded more than half a century. But its close

All loved the old tree with almost a personal affection.

THE PINE TREE.

Grand old Sonlinel.
The ever faithful guard.
O'er this, our natal home.
Thy limbs are torn and scarred.
By winter's blasts and storms;
Still thou hast ever been,
The true and loyad ward.
Of those who dwelt within.

Grand old stately tree!

Though thou hast watched so well,
They very care shall prove.
The note that strikes thy knell,
For in thy fond embrace,
Thine arms too near have come.

GOVERNOR'S MOTHER.
Governor Tyler has always cherished the tenderest feeling for his beautiful young mother, and treasured evorything that he could glean concentrate her. It was with the keenest pleasure, therefore, that he came on her diary a few years ago, at the home of her brother, Captain Joseph Hoge, of Giles.
The diary, which was resurrected from a lot of old family papers, was yellow

The first entry showed the conscientious nature of the girl. She had evidently had a proposal of marriage, and sought divine guidance in making her decision:
November 21, 1831. This evening I have got to come to a decision in a serious matter. May I remember, that it is no light thing to disappoint the affections and hopes of any one and may the God of Heaven prevent my sporting with the feelings of a fellow creature. O. God, let me not be influenced by any selfish or wordly motives. May the love of being admired never lead me astray from my duty; may riohes never influence me; may I never be deceived by a flattering tongue. A least in many of the entries:

"Resolved the first drift of that as long as I live through before the close of the year, this resolution to be ropeated every year as long as I live I This vow L make unto They, O Lord, my God, and pray that thou wouldst enable me to fulfil it; that tonce at least in every year I may read thy-holy volume through and when I read, open Thou mine cars that I may understand."

This vow was kept and renewed each year until '13, when she releases herself from the vow in order that she might turn her attention to select portions of the scriptures.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

G. F. Clements, the noted professional runner and one of the athletic trainers at Harvard College, says:
"Warner's Safe Cure did wonders for me. About a year ago I was run down from over-training on the truck and in base-ball. I suffered continually, and was obliged to drop everything connected with athletics. One day a friend recommended Warner's Safe Cure as a general tonic and kidney builder. After trying a sample bottle I began to feel brighter, and when three bottles were gone I had regained my old-time athletic vigor and health. "I heartly indorse the medicine, not only as a tonic but especially as an infallible cure for kidney troubles."

IF IN DOUBT MAKE THIS TEST:

Put some urine in a glass; after it stands 24 hours, if you find a reddish, brick-dust sediment in it, or particles floating in the urine or the urine is milky or cloudy, you will know your kidneys are in a diseased condition and are unable to perform their work; the result will be the bladder and urinary organs will become inflamed, uric acid will poison the blood, the stomach will become affected and unable to digest the food, the system will become weak and the result will be a breakdown of the general health, with Bright's disease or diabetes, which will prove fatal if not treated with promptness and great care.

Warner's Safe Cure is purely vegetable and contains no harmful drugs; it does not constipate; it is a most valuable and effective tonic, and is a stimulant to digestion and awakens the torpid liver, putting the patient into the very best receptive state for the work of the restorer of the kidneys. Warner's Safe Fills taken with Warner's Safe Cure move the bowels gently and aid a speedy cure.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is now put up in two regular sizes and is sold by all druggists, or direct, at 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle.

Beware of so-called kidney cures, which are full of sediment and of bad odor—they are positively harmful and do not cure.

But so great a good could not be done to humanity without harming the in-terests of a few. terests of a few.

The consumption of medicine has immensely decreased. The popularity of the few physicians who cling solely to drugs has diminished. And in numberiess homes where Liquozone is in delly use, sickness has been almost bandshed.

These facts have injured some interests, And a few of the injured—to serve a selfish interest—seek to disparage that which has done the good.

The usual method is to insinuate that Liquozone itself is a medicine; that, despite ogur claims, it is a compound of acids and drugs.

Such statements are oft repeated; and we cannot doubt that some are led to believe them.

Our answer to all is this: Our answer to all is this:

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gas, by a process requiring immense apparatus and from 8 to 14 days' time. The gas is made, in large part, from the best oxygen producers.

Nothing whatever enters into the product, save the gas and the liquid used to absorb it, plus a touch of color.

And, to emphasize this answer, we ofthe $5.00 to any one who can disprove

In this business, methods which are subject to criticism are most carefully avoided. We permit no misropresentation; no claims which have not been fulfilled. Our product is too vital to humanity, to be laid open to prejudice. What we say about Liquozone is true, what we say about Liquozone is true, what we claim it can do has, again that it cannot kill.

We have published no testimenials; no evidence of cures. We have never asked a soul to buy it.

Our method has been to buy the first bottle ourselves; to let the sick try it without the cost of a penny; to let the product itself prove its power.

Most of you know the result. There is no neighborhood—no hamlet so remote—but knows some wonders which Liquozone has wrought.

And Liquozone is probably doing more to cure sickness, and to prevent it, than all drugs, all medicines combined.

How potty is that self-interest which would have you go back to the old methods—to the days before Liquozone! Back to the time when the very cause of discess was unknown or when no one knew how to meet it!

Yet it is absolutely harmless to the human body. Not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. Even a well person feels its instant benefit.

Liquozone is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison and it cannot be given internally. Medicine is almost helpless in dealing with inside germs.

But germs are vegetables; and Liquo-one—the very life of an animal—is deadly to vegetal matter. This fact—above all others—gives Liquozone its value. There is no other way to directly end the cause of any germ disease.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. Nearly all forms of all these diseases have been traced to germs, or to the poisons which germs create.

nave been traced to germs, or to the polsons which germs create.

These are the diseases to which medicine does not apply, for drugs cannot kill inside germs. All that medicine can do is to act as a tonic, alding Nature to overcome the germs. But those results are indirect and uncertain. The sick cannot afford to rely on them. And no one needs to now.

Liquozone alone can destroy the cause of these troubles. It goes wherever the blood goes, so no germ can escape it. The results are almost inevitable. We have seen them so often in every discuss in this list that we have come to rely on them, Liquozone has proved itself so certain that in any stage of any of these diseases, we will gladly send to any patient who asks it an absolute guaranty.
